STOCKS.

Yesterday Belcher was the prime favorite. The past week has been more like old times than Pine Street has witnessed for many a day—the market abounding in surprise. The brokers have done a large business, and every one feels encouraged.

The transactions at the early session to-day were very large. Belcher continuing to be the main attraction, and raising to 10 1/2, with sales of about 4,000 shares. Crown Point was also lively, going to 5 1/2. Lady Bryan still attracted attention, selling as high as 2 1/2. Nothing was done in the north enders to distract attention from the movements elsewhere.

The progress of the Belcher boom was the feather of the 11 o'clock Board. There was an old-time excitement in it, and it climbed rapidly to 13 1/2, closing at the highest figure. This was an advance of nearly $4 since last night. The rest of the line, except at the north end, was strong. Bullion shaded off a little, while Flowery and North Bonanza awoke from their long nap and started up, the latter reaching 1 1/2, with sales of about 2,500 shares. Lady Bryan declined rapidly, but not by any means in a panicky manner, to 1.30.

Dividends—Bodie 25 cents, Eureka 50 cents. Assessments—Gila 25 cents, South Bodie 10 cents.
Following are the latest street quotations: Belcher, 14; Point, 6 1/2; Gould & Curry, 7; Jacket, 12; Chollar, 9; Mexican, 19 1/2; Union, 46; Hale & Norcross, 9; Belcher, 14; Sierra Nevada, 23; Best & Belcher, 14 1/2; Utah, 12 1/2; Julia, 2.85.

LOST.—On Sunday a wildcat robe lined with red brocade and bordered with red and blue. The finder will be liberally rewarded on leaving the same at Benton's livery and feed stable or this office. j14tf.

A man who enjoys good cigars, and is a judge of the article, will find it to his advantage to call at the Post Office Cigar Stand. None but the best are sold there.

THE PLACE TO GO.—If you want a good square meal, go to Hunt's New Chop Stand, opposite the V. & T. R. R. depot, California building, No. 76. d18-1m

CARY'S CLOCK.

HE HOLDS IT TO BE THE OFFICIAL REGULATOR OF CARSON—A PORTAL VAG AND A BEWILDERED ASTRONOMER.

Judge Cary was in a very contented frame of mind yesterday morning, partly on account of the business revival in his court and partly because the APPEAL had taken the trouble to make an extended notice of his old clock and print poetry about it. He pasted the poetry up on the wall that all who came in might see that the old time piece was really what he claimed it to be.

"Such poetry," said the Court, comes right up from the inner well-springs of the human breast. It softens the fiercest feelings of a man's nature and spiritualizes the profound harmonies of his being.

THE VERIFICATION VAG.

Just then the Constable brought in B. Wilks, a vagrant. The man declined any defense. He admitted that he slept round in hay lofts and dry goods boxes and liked it. "Come here," said the Court, "walk up there and read that poem from the APPEAL and it'll make a better man of you."

"Look a hear Judge, if y'r down on me all right. If I'm a tough nut send me up for sixty days, but don't make me read poems from the APPEAL. I'm not a hardened criminal, don't lay the hand of the law on with such heft."

The Court was astonished at the vag's lack of aesthetic taste, and was about to send him up when he pulled a manuscript out of his pocket, remarking, "I can write better verses myself, and before the constable could bind and gag him he read as follows:

When setting sunlight's level ray
Betokens the declining day,
And homeward plod the sheep,
I seek some inexpensive rest,
(The dry goods boxes are the best.)
And sob myself to sleep.

When off the shadows of the night
Begin—

"Three months in the County Jail!" shouted the Court.

Two Constables threw themselves upon the poet and dragged him out by the heels.

AN ASTONISHED ASTRONOMER.

In the trial of a man who was accused of poisoning a dog, Mr. Friend, the Carson astronomer and chronometrist, was on the jury, but when the case was called the gentleman could not be found. He was finally brought in by a constable and the Court asked him to show cause why he should not be committed for contempt.

"I was subpoenaed at 1 o'clock; it is now but twenty minutes past eleven."

"Do you see that clock?" said the Court, pointing to the ancient machine above his head. "The affairs of this Court are gauged by that official chronometer."

"But it's wrong," continued Mr. Friend, pulling out a $300 gold watch. "It's about an hour and a half fast."

"I allow no man to dispute the time of that clock. It was brought to America by the Pilgrims Fathers in the 'Mayflower,' and I guess the time that was good enough for the 'Mayflower' is good enough for you and the rest of Carson."

"I take my observations from the sun, Mr. Cary, and they are correct to the tenth of a second."

"If the sun don't go by that clock it's the sun's own fault. Don't ever depend on the sun when you are wanted in this court. I hold that a court has the right to fix its own time. That clock is the official time and you fellows have got to knuckle to it."

Just then the loud ticking of the old machine stopped and Mr. Friend called the Court's attention to the fact that it had run down.

"In that case," remarked Mr. Cary, "I will adjourn the Court until the clock can be wound up again. When that clock don't run the Court don't. All business transacted here when the clock is not going is illegal, null and void."

The room was then cleared and the Court went out to borrow a step ladder that he might wind the clock.

AN ABSENT MINDED BOY.—A few days ago a young boy called at the APPEAL office and purchased one hundred old newspapers to serve as wrappers in a laundry. As he expected to pass the post office the reporter thought it would be a good idea to utilize him, and handed him a paper to mail, instructing him to put it in the "big hole" of the post office and not in the small slit where letters are mailed. He said he understood all about it, and going down, jammed the one hundred old exchanges into the box and carried the solitary paper given him to mail, home in his jacket. His father then came prancing up to the APPEAL office and charged the reporter with having taken four bits from his boy for a single copy of an APPEAL directed to Sacramento. The man from the post office appeared on the trail of the boy who had played the trick and wanted to spank him. The explanation all around occupied an hour.

SAGEBRUSH LEAVES.—The APPEAL has received several inquiries of late regarding "Sagebrush Leaves." Several parties to whom the books were sent weeks, and in some instances months ago, have failed to receive them. Agents of the book, appointed by the regular committee, who have not received their books, will communicate with this office as once as there are less than one hundred volumes left. State papers will confer a favor by copying this notice.

THE LOADED STICK.

The night was cold, the stars looked down
Upon the snow serenely,
While through the streets which crossed the town
The wind was cutting keenly.

Before the fire in dressing gown,
If I remember rightly,
Old Dobson stirred his toddy round,
As was his custom nightly.

The tempest sang its sad refrain
And fiercer grew its spasms,
As if some giant trod the plain,
From out the mountain chasms.

Now Dobson's heart was cold as ice,
His nature mean and greedy,
He grasped a quarter like a vice
And never helped the needy.

He took a stick—'twas seasoned well—
And with some powder filled it,
"Twill blow some thieving wretch to—
If so the Lord has willed it."

Then 'neath the light of stars divine
He stood and laughed a good while,
Then with that stick of loaded pine
He sailed that old wood-pile.

Next day he called on neighbor Brown,
A valued friend and trusted;
Searched in his chair he settled down
When bang! the old stove burst.

A chunk of iron from the grate
Flew upward to the ceiling,
And falling, smashed old Dobson's pate
And sent the owner reeling.

Next day the people, one and all,
Quaffed deep the breezy schooner,
And said, "Luch men are sure to fall,
He should have died the sooner."

THE BODIE EXTENSION.

The V. & T. R. R. Co. is about to build a road to Bodie. At least the Enterprise, which is the V. & T. organ, says yesterday morning: "The Bodie railroad, Mr. Yerington says, is to be built right away. It will start from the Mound House, run down the Carson river past Sutra, cross over the river below there, and thence to Mason Valley. Its course will then be to Walker Lake, over which for thirty miles a steamer will be run. By this route the trade and travel of Bridgeport, Aurora, Benton and Columbus will be secured. The exact location of the track along this route has not yet been decided upon."

The statement is corroborated by the Lyon County Times, which furthermore gives a little insight into the causes which have spurred the V. & T. up to immediate action. The Times says: "The Virginia and Truckee Railroad will soon be extended to Walker Lake. There is no doubt about it. The recent incorporation of a company which proposes to build a road to the same point from Wadsworth, on the Central Pacific road, has made it necessary for the V. & T. people to exert themselves in this direction. Otherwise they will lose the Bodie trade, which is already considerable, and which promises to become still more so."

MINING ONE'S OWN BUSINESS.—The man never yet lived who did not think he could run some one else's business better than his own; and as a rule, if two thirds of the inhabitants of Nevada would get out of the business they are generally engaged in, and hunt up some other occupation, it would be a big thing for them, the business and everybody else. The mining experts would make good wood sawyers, and the ditch diggers excellent superintendents. Yesterday a lawyer came into the APPEAL office and began to make suggestions about the policy of the paper. Presently the editor remarked:

"Why in blazes do you come in here every day and make suggestions about how to run a newspaper?"

"Why, old boy, don't you come into my office three or four times a week, telling me how to manage my law suits?"

The editor was overwhelmed by a large legal majority.

If parties coming to the city will persist in falling into the numerous dens calling themselves by different "Uncles," and find after purchasing that they are swindled, it is their own fault. Take the little trouble to see Uncle Harris' name painted on the windows of his store. Go first and see him, get his guarantee (written), and you will find that you have bought any article for half store prices. Remember the number, 221 Kearney St., between Bush and Sutter.

SELLING OUT.—The Olcovich Brothers have resolved upon a change. They propose to sell out their stock of goods at a great reduction. In drygoods they offer great inducements. As they are going out of the clothing business altogether, parties with coin will do well to buy their goods there.

A MUSIC BAR.—The citizens of Empire propose to have an organ in their public school, and have put up a bulletin bar valued at $190 at raffle. There will be 300 chances at $1 a chance. Yesterday Frank McCollough sold eighty tickets in this city in an hour.

A man rushed into the Curry engine house yesterday afternoon and wanted a fire alarm rung. An investigation of the cause of his excitement revealed the fact that three red-headed girls had stopped to talk in the street together.

EPISCOPAL CHURCH.—Regular morning services to-day at St. Peter's Church. No evening service. The bell being unfit for use, will not be rung. Sunday School at 12:30. Public invited. Geo. R. Davis, Rector.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.—Services in the Presbyterian Church at 11 A. M. and 7 P. M. Sabbath School at 12:15.

SPIRITUALISM.—Dr. Henry Slade, the world renowned medium, will give sittings for physical manipulations, medical examination and treatment, for three days only, at the Arlington Hotel, on and after Sunday, January 18th.

The tickets for the entertainment to be given by the Ladies' Union on next Tuesday evening are selling rapidly. The price of admission is but fifty cents.

Prof. Speiser, a pianist of Virginia City, committed suicide day before yesterday in Virginia City. This was his third attempt.

The old, worn-out rails of the V. & T. R. R. are being taken up and sent to the Pacific Mills to be worked over.

The Carson Guard have erected a new target house on their range at Treadway's ranch.

Capt. Pray, of Glenbrook, is in the city.

FRAGRANT BREATH AND PEARLY

Teeth are easily obtained by cleansing your teeth daily with that justly popular dentifrice, SOZODONT. Composed of rare antiseptic herbs, it imparts whiteness to the teeth, a delicious aroma to the breath, and preserves intact, from youth to old age, the teeth. Acidity of the stomach will destroy the strongest teeth unless its effects are counteracted with SOZODONT, and this pure tooth-wash protects the dental surfaces by removing every impurity that adheres to them. Ask your druggist for SOZODONT. j17

PIANOS AND ORGANS.—At San Francisco prices, can be had on easy terms at the rooms of the Reform Club. Mr. Vann will give personal attention to customers, and explain the peculiarities of the various makes. All instruments fully guaranteed and shipped direct from Kohler & Chase, San Francisco. No agency, no profits to middlemen and no risk. Instruments sold on easy installments and old ones taken in exchange. The Decker piano, which is better than the Steinway or Webber, is just the thing for Christmas, and can be forwarded $150 cheaper than any piano in the market. d16-1f

ATTENTION!—The greatest wonder yet discovered in medicine is Mrs. Dr. Howe's celebrated rheumatism, neuralgia and toothache cures. Would you rather suffer the pain of having a tooth drawn than buy a bottle of Mrs. Dr. Howe's toothache medicine? Mothers should not be without it for their infants. A few drops in a little sweetened water to swab a teething baby's mouth will instantly relieve the little sufferer. The medicine does not cauterize and is very pleasant. Sold by all druggists. jan8*

DANCING SCHOOL.—Professor H. C. Schubert has opened a dancing school here and will teach the art of dancing the coming Winter. He has secured Theater Hall and has already obtained the patronage of some of the leading families of Carson. His terms can be had on application. d22-1m

Now that the cold weather is upon us every man, woman and child in Carson will want a good, thick pair of gloves, not so much for style as for warmth. M. W. Hodkins, opposite the Arlington House, makes the best on the coast. His hand sewed buck gloves are a specialty. d23-1m.
